DAKOTA has gained over 900 per cent. in population since 1870.

As THE TELEGRAM predicted weeks ago Minister Morton is leading by a long distance in the New York Senatorial race.

Accounting to the correspondent who signs himself "Carp" John A. Logan's signature takes up half a page, but there is always a suspicion that this writer's stories are fishy.

Ex-Governor Hamilton, of Illinois, announces that he has permanently retired from politics. He says the game is not worth the powder and he will locate in Chicago and practice law in the future.

LLOYD'S Weekly Newspaper, of London, which claims to have the largest circulation in the world, is a twelve page paper printed on a single sheet, and to the average American eye is not at all ROCHEFORT declares that Louise Michel has become insane after two years of solitary confinement. Rochefort is mistaken. Louise became insane long before she went to prison two years ago-and Rochefort is similarly afflicted.

THE report from Portland of the unavailing efforts of one thousand men, thirty locomotives and five snow-plows to move a train an inch will not tend to increase the demand for stock in Mr. Pim's proposed railroad to Hudson's Bay.

CONGRESSMAN BURLEIGH is reported as having said to a New York Herald representative on Sunday night that "in no conceivable circumstance will President Arthur be a candidate for the senatorial tion." We suspect that the events of this week at Albany will contradict this statement.

THE Chicago Herald expresses an incontrovertible fact when it says: "There are several hundred thousand respectable John L. Sullivan and the hind end of a healthy mule."

THE TELEGRAM is indebted to the Philadelphia Record for a copy of its very valuable almanae for 1885. It contains a carefully compiled and condensed collection of facts such as any man is likely to wish to refer to at any moment. Like the Record itself, it is a good thing to have in the family.

Ir is said that the Democrats of Mississippi still cherish the hope that they will yet have an opportunity to send Jeff Davis to the United States Senate. It would hardly pay them for the trouble. Jeff is not only dead, but he stinks so hardly endure him for a great while.

THE testimony in the celebrated Crouch murder trial was finished Saturday and yesterday the arguments of counsel began. As nearly as can be judged from a perusal of the printed reports of the testimony this dreadful tragedy is still shrouded in mystery. Whether the jury has been able to find anything upon which to base an intelligent verdict remains to be seen.

THE indications now are that Congress will do little important work during the present session, aside from the passing of the various appropriation bills. Only one of these, the military academy, has been passed upon by both houses, and as there are twelve others, only four of which are ready for action, it will take some time for the whole number to pass and until they are out of the way other work must be greatly delayed.

THE State Legislature will assemble tomorrow. The session will probably not be any shorter than the last one, which continued a little more than five months. There will be no legislation of any special importance proposed. Something should be done to shorten these sessions. Protracted as they now are, they are burdensome alike to the people and to members. The constitutional amendment proposed by the last legislature would have accomplished the desired effect. Seven hundred dollars for the session and no free passes was the proposition. Of course it was voted down in accordance with the two-penny policy of a large long for publication. number of voters of this state regarding official compensation. We wonder if they will ever realize that to save fifty cents on a salary they usually lose ten times that amount in other directions.

MR. JONES, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, having made an attempt to throw the responsibility for the loss of New York, and the consequent loss of the election, on the lukewarmness of President Arthur, Senator Hawley has made a statement which he says he gave to the National Committee dur- Hours From 9 to 12 s. m., 1 to 5 and 7 to 8 p. m.

ing the campaign, which shows that the President was in full and active sympathy with Blaine and earnestly desired his success. The New York Sun throws the responsibility on Mr. Jones, himself, and charges that New York was lost by the Republicans because the National Committee made the blunder of supposing Blaine could be elected without New York, and that acting upon this idea they took the money usually raised in that State by the State Committee, and used in the State campaign, and used it in Maine, Ohio and Virginia, and the result was a weak campaign in that State. The Sun charges that several meetings that were to have been addressed by distinguished speakers from other States fell through for lack of funds.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Pittsburg Times: When Randall gets through there will be a gaping chasm in the solid South. Cleveland Leader: If Frank Hurd expects to escape the reputation of a fool he had better quiet down.

Philadelphia Times: Watterson might take a trip somewhere and find out what the people think of his opinions. Manistique Pioneer: Begole, in his haste to grant pardons, the other day issued one to a man that instead of being in prison was in Canada. Baltimore Day: The eyes of a bee contain 1,000 mirrors. This accounts for the reflection a man indulges in after a brief interview with one of these pungent in-Philadelphia Record: So confirmed is Mr. Cleveland in his opposition to receiv-ing gifts that it is understood that when he becomes President and visits a military post the guards will not be allowed to present arms to him. Wednesday evening, January 7, Strauss' Best Effort, Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette: Upon the whole, therefore, it is safe to conclude that the bottom of the depression has been reached and that any change must be for the better, and all the indications Thursday evening, January S. M. Chas. Leevey's crowning triemph in Opera Bonffe, are that 1885 will be a year of comparative prosperity. Chicago Times: Even a man like Randall may loom up pretty large in the house, but he shrinks rapidly when he gets out before the public and press. It will be sad to witness Mr. Randall's shruken proportions when he gets back from his trip through the South.

New York Sun: The Hon. Henry Watterson, it is pleasant to know, is "very serene," and entirely undisturbed by Mr. Randall's triumphal progress. Mr. Watterson's manner of showing serenity is sometimes a little peculiar, and he certainly did seem restless and agitated for a time before Mr. Randall came.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Where so many are willing and anxious to lend a belping hand to make business better, and while there is such universal belief that the worst is over and that depression has had its day, there is certainly nothing except some-thing unforseen and uncontrollable, like a pestilence, to prevent the onward march

Lansing Republican: There is no longer any doubt about there being widemen in this country who would pay $2 apiece for the privilege of witnessing a slugging contest, without gloves, between fire-eating bourbon organs of the freetrade Wattersonian stripe must either take their places in the protective line of march or perch like owls on the dead limb of British free-trade and hoot at the advancing column.

GRANDFATHER'S TEETH.

Simmons's Demand on the Resources of a Hospital.

Henry Simmans, of 51 Carmine street, wears a set of false teeth which his grandfather wore for thirty years before him. He is naturally proud of them. On Thursday night they did not sit easy, and he did not sleep peacefully. Yesterday morning he felt queer pains in his stomach and head, and these were aggravated when he discovered that he had lost his family inheritance. "I've swallowed grandfather's teeth," he cried, and he ran as fast as he could to St.

badly that Southern Democrats would Vincent's Hospital. The doctor procured grappling irons and other instruments, and was about to make search for the molars, when Mr. Simmons cried out again. This time he exclaimed:

"Why, here they are, in my vest pocket."

And so they were. Then the old gentleman trotted home again, relieved of all anxiety.-N. Y. Sun.

Read What Van's Magic Oil or King of Pain Mas Done or the People

We have used Van's Magic Oil for internal and external applications in cases of Colds Coinc Cuts.
Burns, Bruises, etc., and find none bester. It is especially adapted to children, as it can be used with safety and satisfaction, and we carnetly recommend it to parents.

Musiceson, Sept. 21, 1884.

I have used Van's Magic Oil for Neuralgia, and it has proved to be estisfactory as if has cured me entirely: also our next door neighbor was cured by it. Joshans Kieft, by Internal use for Sore Threes, combined with a severe Cough and Hourseness; also a man by the name of Stoffel Ewintens was cured by it of a very severe Laine back. I can never say too sunch in praise of your Magic Oil. Grand Haven, April 25, 1881. Yours truly.

JACOB DESPELDER.

J. W. EDDY.

We have used your Magne Oil for several years, and would not like to be without it, as it is a good family medicine, viz: Burns, Brusse, Sore Throat, Colds, etc., honce I truly recommend it to the public.

REV. E. VANIMINATES.

Patterson, N. J., Feb. II, 1884.

Mr. N. G. VANDERIANDE.—We have used your Magic Oil with great estisfaction. One of our children was taken sick with (so-called) diphtheria. Of course we employed a doctor, but the child grew worse every day. One morning the doctor called with four more of his profession: and consulted. If the child would be alive in the and consulted. If the child would be alive in the evening they were to open the child's throat and cut the phiegra out. This I did not approve of, but as there was he hope of the child's recovery, I consented. Finally our negation, Mrs. F. Vanderwerp, called with a bottle of your Magic Oil, and asked if we would use it—it would cost us nothing. We gave the child three or five drops internally every hour, and poulticed the soles of its feet with oanour and bathed is throat well with Magic Oil, and when the doctor came in the evening he wanted to know what we had given the child, as it breathed so much easier. I told him we used Van's Magic Oil. He said keep right on using it as that was better than she could do. I have thanked Mrs. Vanderwerp a thousand times for her kindness, and I sancerely thank you for your valuable medicine. Yours truly, Muskegon. I would say, I have known the effects of Van's Magic Oil, in domestic practice, always with good effects, never with bad effects. Have prescribed it in any practice; find it a very good and safe medicine.
